Other:

Elżbieta completed her Polish legal studies at the University of Warsaw, followed by a diploma in French and European Commercial Law with the Poitiers University. She continued her French and European legal studies at the Paris Bar Association, also completing an internship at a recognised French law office.

The fields of Family Law and the Law of Succession are where Elżbieta applies her inter-European legal knowledge most frequently. This includes international custody and maintenance disputes as well as the division of property.

Other fields in which Elżbieta runs a strong practice include Real Estate Law; Medical Negligence; Damages and Non-profit organisations.

Elżbieta also works closely with several corporate executives, providing day-to-day advisory and leveraging her broad scope of legal experience. She often advises on matters related to Corporate Criminal Liability, based on her extensive knowledge of principles governing the criminal liability of corporate employees and officers as well as disciplinary action against members of professional councils.

Elżbieta is an independent advocate and partner in a law office since 2006. She runs both commercial and civil litigation and regularly participates in international conferences and training.
